RIVER POLLUTION DEMANDING STATE ACTION

State Auditor Scrutinizes Commission Expense

FOUR INTERIM COMMISSIONS ARE SLOW TO REPORT

EXPENSES OF 4 NAMED BY LEGISLATURE ARE NEARLY $13,000

REPORTS ARRIVE TOO LATE TO TAKE ANY ACTION ON THEM

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(U.P.)—An item of $150 for typewriter rent was one of the matters being considered today by the state auditor's office in an investigation of results obtained and expenses money spent by four interim commissions.

The commissions were created to make inquiries and give reports for the guidance of the 1931 legislature. Three of the reports were submitted during the final days of the session and one commission made no report.

Expenses of the four commissions was nearly $13,000, records have revealed. Each of the reports arrived too late for the legislature to take any action, except to adopt them, before adjournment.

The "Big Three" of the senate are members of the latest commission to come under the scrutiny of State Auditor Stafford King's office. They are Senators Chris Rosenbloom of Little Falls, A. J. Rockne of Zumbrota and C. H. Mackenzie of Gaylord, members of an interim commission on judicial redistricting.

A report was tendered to the legislature from the commission last Wednesday, the concluding day of the session on which no bills could be passed. An expense account of $95 has been submitted to King. The report contained five paragraphs, concluding:

"As a result of the inquiries by the full committee, this committee now reports that the seventh judicial district was entitled to a fourth judge. This need has been supplied by the present session of the legislature. As to the 16th judicial district, the committee is of the opinion that at present no recommendation should be made for an additional judge."

The other interim commissions which made reports in the final day of the session were the house interim committee on local indebtedness and taxation and the house interim committee on Minnesota-Wisconsin boundary wars.

No report was received from the joint interim committee on education and university affairs. An expense account calling for $2,200 was submitted, however.

Expense for the Minnesota-Wisconsin boundary commission totaled $3,810.62 for "temporary salaries, maintenance, travel, subsistence and office and typewriter rent" over a period of two years. The item of typewriter rent was for $150.

The education and university commission expended $2,200 and the local indebtedness and taxation committee spent $4,740. King said that each of the commissions may have additional expenses which have not been recorded.

FRED BURKE PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER

TAKING OF TESTIMONY STARTED AT ONCE BY JUDGE CHARLES E. WHITE

"MOST DANGEROUS MAN ALIVE" IN CUSTODY AT ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN

St. Joseph, Mich., April 27.—(U.P.)—Fred Burke, "most dangerous man alive," this afternoon pleaded guilty to a murder charge.

Taking of testimony was started at once by Judge Charles E. White, of Niles, sitting in circuit court.

Burke, captured a few weeks ago in a northwest Missouri farm house without a fight, was charged with the murder of Patrolman Charles Skelley in St. Joseph in December, 1929.

Burke probably will be sentenced late this afternoon and rushed to Marquette prison branch at once. Life imprisonment is the maximum sentence he can receive in Michigan.

Closely guarded by a squad of 15 state troopers, Burke was taken from the Berrien county jail this afternoon to the court house across the street. He was handcuffed.

Dressed immaculately, his hair freshly cut, and still maintaining the air of a business man rather than the cold blooded killer and expert machine gunner police contend he is, Burke appeared unworried as he entered the packed court room.

A cordon of deputy sheriffs surrounded the court house. Machine guns that once were owned by Burke were set up to command a sweep of

Mystery of the Nude Man With Long Beard is Solved in Chicago

Chicago, April 27.—(U.P.)—The mystery of the nude man with a long gray beard who roamed the Austin police district late at nights frightening women has been solved.

Several times recently the police received calls from hysterical women who told of being chased by the man. Early today they received another.

Officers Frank Dyer and Andrew Fahy of the flivver squad took up the hunt. They searched every street in the neighborhood without success, then started touring the alleys on foot.

Suddenly something flashed in front of them and down a narrow space between two buildings. All they could determine was that it was white and had a long beard. Dyer raced down the passage. Nearing the walled end of the space, he again glimpsed the flash of white, dived and captured the "nude man" who had caused so much commotion in the vicinity.

The mysterious culprit was a billygoat.

FOUR BILLION BUDGET UP IN ENGLISH COMMONS

PHILIP SNOWDEN, CHANCELLOR OF EXCHEQUER, INTRODUCES MEASURE

ASSURES POORER CLASSES THEY WILL NOT BE CALLED UPON FOR CURRENT DEFICIT

By KEITH JONES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, April 27.—Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced his $4,316,247,800 budget in the house of commons today and assured the poorer classes that they would not be called on to make up out of their incomes the current deficit of $12,888,000.

Instead, he made bold proposals for raising the needed revenue. The first and most striking was a tax of one penny in the pound on the capital value of land—a direct challenge to the landed interests of Great Britain and the house of lords.

Legislation making it effective can be put through the house of commons without the consent of the lords.

The second proposal was to utilize 20,000,000 pounds of a 33,000,000 pound fund which Britain maintains in New York for handling debt transactions; the remaining 13,000,000 pounds would be deposited with the bank for international settlements in Basle for meeting Britain's international obligations.

The third revenue-raising proposal was an increase of two pence a gallon on gasoline, making the tax sixpence, or 12 cents a gallon. Snowden estimated this would obtain 7,500,000 pounds additional revenue.

With the millions of pounds which would be obtained from the land tax and the 20,000,000 from New York, the brilliant, crippled little labor chancellor proposed to tide Britain over her financial troubles for another year.

Snowden's budget allowed for some $90,000,000 more in expenditures than last year. He calculated that the revenue from alcoholic liquors would continue to decrease, because of the falling consumption.

The budget estimated revenue of 803,500,000 pounds and expenditures of 803,366,000, which would leave a surplus for the year of 134,000 pounds.

Find Body of Man Slumped Over an Old Packing Case

Minneapolis, April 27.—(U.P.)—Slumped over an old packing case in the Randolph apartment, the body of an unidentified man was found today. Police believed he died in a free-for-all fight in the apartment house and held four men and four women for questioning.

The slain man, police said, apparently had started down a rear stairs and was struck from behind and rolled down into the packing case.

Soviet Union Works Frantically to Speed Up Its Sea and River Transport Workers

DEADLY WEAKNESS IN FACILITIES OF TRANSPORTATION

ALL RAILROAD WORKERS MOBILIZED UNDER THREAT OF DRASTIC PENALTIES

TRANSPORTATION IS MOST SERIOUS THREAT TO 5-YEAR INDUSTRIALIZATION PLAN

By CHARLES MALMUTH (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Moscow, April 27.—Mobilization of all sea and river transport workers in the Soviet Union was begun today in a desperate effort to meet one of the outstanding difficulties of the five-year industrialization plan—a deadly weakness in transportation facilities.

Already having mobilized all railroad workers under threat of drastic penalty, the commissariat of labor and the seamen's union joined in issuing a decree which summoned all persons who have worked on the sea or rivers in the last ten years and all graduates of water transport schools in the last five years to report for sea-duty within five days.

The decree, which placed virtually all transport systems in Russia on a war-time basis with serious penalties for "man failure," sabotage or negligence, emphasized the weakness of the transportation system, which has taken its place as the most serious threat to successful conclusion of the five-year plan.

The bulk of the river navigation must be carried out while the waters of the small rivers are high, which is up to July 1. To date this year only 68 per cent of the necessary repairs on steamships have been completed, although navigation of the rivers will start within a few days.

All water workers were subject to terms of the decree unless they are serving in the army or navy or handling freight elsewhere. The men to be mobilized will be guaranteed their travelling expenses and the right to maintain their homes in any part of the nation to which they may be transported.

MINNESOTA HAS 420 NEW LAWS

PASSED BY 1931 LEGISLATURE AND SIGNED BY GOVERNOR NOR OLSON

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(U.P.)—Minnesota today had 420 new laws passed by the 1931 legislature and signed by the governor.

Saturday midnight was the deadline for signing bills and the statutes today were filed with Mike Holm, secretary of state. The number of bills becoming laws this year was considerably less than during recent biennial sessions of the legislature.

The secretary of state's office also received the reapportionment bill passed by both houses but vetoed by the governor. By resolution on its final day, the legislature ordered the measure filed as a passed law with Holm's office.

CLAIM SENTIMENT OVERWHELMINGLY FOR PRES. HOOVER

Washington, April 27.—(U.P.)—Delegates and alternates to the 1928 republican national convention are overwhelmingly in the opinion that President Hoover will be renominated next year, according to a poll conducted by the Washington Post.

Vice President Curtis, according to the copyrighted story, was favored for renomination also. The following summary of opinion of the 521 delegates and alternates was given:

Hoover, 492; Morrow, 13; Coolidge, 12; Lowden, 1; Dawes, 1; Borah, 1, and Watson, 1.

Curtis was named by 247 as the possible vice presidential nominee. Sixty named Theodore Roosevelt, 34 Morrow, 13 Secretary of War Hurley, and 10 Rep. Tilson, Rep. Conn. Scattering votes were cast for nearly a score of others.

CERMAK TO BE INAUGURATED AS CHICAGO MAYOR

CAME TO THIS COUNTRY POOR IMMIGRANT BOY, WORKED HIS WAY UP

PLAN OF HIS ADMIRERS IS TO BROADCAST HIS ADDRESS TONIGHT

Chicago, April 27.—(U.P.)—Anton J. Cermak, who came to this country a poor immigrant boy, worked in a coal mine, and then fought his way upward to the position of millionaire business man, will be inaugurated tonight as mayor of the world's fourth largest city to succeed William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson.

The plan of his admirers and backers is to broadcast Cermak's inaugural address over a national radio system.

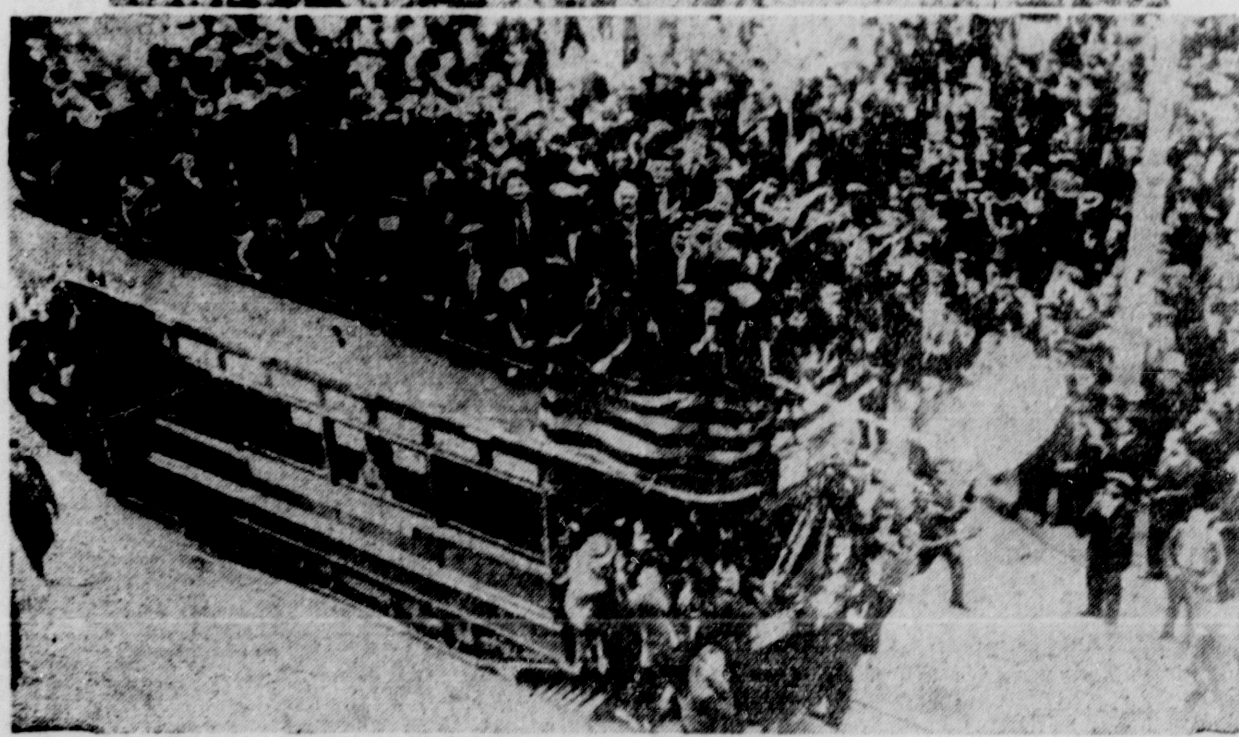

His plan is to tell the country that he will be a "working mayor," to explain how he will give Chicago "the best administration it has ever had," and to tell of some of the business methods he will introduce to make this the world's first instead of its fourth city during the century of progress exposition in 1933.

It has been said frequently that Cermak has a "golden opportunity" since early this month when Thompson was swept aside in an avalanche of votes and the former coal miner with the kindly but stern face was carried into office to become overnight a nationally recognized political leader.

Demonstrating how he will keep his promise to be a "working mayor" rather than a "greeter" or figure head, Cermak spent almost the entire weekend, night and day, at his desk, considering possible appointees to his cabinet, preparing his inaugural address, and working diligently over his plans to reduce taxes by cutting down city expenditures.

The word "economy" has echoed and re-echoed through every public utterance of the new mayor during his pre-inaugural days in office and it is understood he plans to devote much of his address tonight to this subject.

PRES. AND MRS. HOOVER HAVE SAD WEEK-END TIME

CHOPPY OVERNIGHT RETURN VOYAGE IN SMALL BOAT ON POTOMAC

UNCOMFORTABLE EXPERIENCES WITH ELEMENTS UP AND DOWN RIVER

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 27.—A choppy overnight return voyage in a small boat brought President and Mrs. Hoover to the close today of an exciting and uncomfortable week-end experience with the elements up and down the Potomac.

From the time he left Washington Saturday in a stiff breeze, the chief executive found himself, his party and his 100-foot inspection boat of the commerce department fighting wind, rain, lightning and—for the Potomac river—heavy seas.

Mr. Hoover made the trip in the boat Sequoia to celebrate the 324th anniversary of the landing of the Cavaliers on the sand dune desert of Cape Henry, Va., 22 miles from Norfolk.

The climax of the trip was when a thunder storm broke up the celebration as a clergyman was reciting the Lord's prayer.

Eighteen hours they journeyed down the Potomac in the cramped quarters of the Sequoia. About 8,000 persons were there to greet them.

Mr. Hoover wore his silk hat and Mrs. Hoover a new lilac colored bonnet. Both were ruined in the downpour, which began five minutes after the ceremonies started.

The president and first lady stood with the rain beating down upon them, not moving an inch. Plain coats were thrown over the shoulders of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and several persons tried to hold umbrellas above their heads, but protection was impossible.

Five minutes in the downpour compelled the executive to give up. When he reached the railroad tracks and found the train "gone somewhere to turn around," the rain was falling heavier than before.

The president and Mrs. Hoover took refuge in a tea room where they were marooned half an hour while hundreds of excited citizens milled around him at arm's length. Mr. Hoover accepted a motor car for the 10-mile return trip to the Sequoia.

Squalls intermittently blew across the Potomac on the return voyage and made traveling extremely uncomfortable.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO OPERATING STILL

St. Paul, April 27.—(U.P.)—Harry Jaffa pleaded not guilty today in federal court to charges of operating illegal stills. He reserved the privilege to change his plea after a review of the charges against him. The case was continued indefinitely. Jaffa was captured last week in Minneapolis after a two year chase by prohibition agents who said he headed one of the most extensive rings operating in the Twin Cities.

SPARTAN MOTHER JUSTIFIES COUNTRY'S CLAIM FOR COURAGE

Chicago, April 27.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Mary Mellas, a native of Sparta, has justified the reputation for courage held by her race through the ages.

Saturday evening doctors told Mrs. Mellas a blood transfusion, with the blood of a relative preferred, was necessary for her five-year-old daughter, Florence, who was ill of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Mellas went to a hospital and gave a pint of her blood to her daughter.

Sunday morning another daughter was born to Mrs. Mellas.

All three were reported today as "doing nicely."

"LEGS" DIAMOND, GANG CHIEFTAIN, SHOT DOWN AGAIN

AMAZING LUCK AGAIN SAVES HIM FROM INSTANT ASSASSINATION

SHOTGUN DISCHARGE BREAKS HIS ARM, WOUNDS HIM IN SIDE AND BACK

Cairo, N. Y., April 27.—(U.P.)—The amazing luck which has saved Jack "Legs" Diamond from assassination twice before in his unsteady gangland career came to his aid again today when he emerged alive, though severely wounded, from a terrific volley of enemy gunfire.

A midnight ambush in a Catskill Mountain roadhouse was the latest trap set for the New York underworld chief by the foes who had marked him for death. But, by the narrowest margin, this attempt failed like the others that have been made on Diamond's strangely charmed life.

Ten charges of buckshot blazed from a sawed-off shotgun as the young Broadway beer runner walked out on the porch of the Saratoga Inn shortly before last midnight. Four of them tore into his body. The others, which would have finished him, splintered the door through which he passed.

The assailant, unknown, escaped into the darkness.

Scarcely six months ago Diamond was shot four times and left for dead in a New York hotel. Surgeons said he had a chance in a hundred to survive. Thin, emaciated and tubercular, he was in no condition to resist death, but he recovered.

Since then, he has remained almost in seclusion near here in a strongly guarded house that is referred to as his "fortress."

Diamond, whose notoriety has spread throughout the world, knew it would be useless to flee. He tried that once, and no European country would admit him.

Last night he was sitting with a party of three in the roadhouse. He rose from a table and started to leave the room. Just behind walked his bodyguard, John Scaccio.

As the gang chieftain appeared in the doorway there was a blinding roar from the darkness. Diamond was hurled to the floor, screaming:

"My God, I'm shot again! I'm shot again!"

The firing continued. Scaccio ducked. The passageway and nearby walls were riddled by buckshot. The attack was so terrific and unexpected that none in the roadhouse was certain how many men had fired.

When it had stopped the bodyguard rushed to the side of his fallen chief and picked him up.

"I guess they got me that time," moaned Diamond. "They must have used a machine gun."

But the gangster was less seriously wounded than he thought. He was rushed to Albany hospital, 25 miles away, by ambulance. Physicians said one arm was broken and he had painful wounds on both sides and in his back. It was announced he was not critically wounded but an emergency operation was performed to remove the shot from his body.

But Diamond was not convinced he would live. He kept saying to Scaccio:

"If I go over the hill, be sure to take care of Alice."

Alice is Diamond's wife. It was she who nursed him while he was fighting for his life after the New York hotel shooting. She returned to him when he left the hospital, despite the fact that when he was shot he was at the hotel with Marion Roberts, his 19-year-old red-haired show girl sweetheart.

Marion, in recent weeks, has been staying at Diamond's "fortress." Mrs. Diamond, it was said, left the place when the chorus beauty arrived.

SENTIMENT FOR SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

HASTINGS AROUSED FOR NECESSITY OF CORRECTION OF RIVER EVIL

MINNEAPOLIS AND ST. PAUL ATTEMPTING TO AGREE ON COMPROMISE PLAN

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(U.P.)—Another indication that Minnesota may have a special session of the state legislature was seen today in an announcement from Hastings, Minn., that state action will be sought to solve the problem of Mississippi river pollution.

"Hastings is only one of the towns down river from Minneapolis and St. Paul which may ask for a special legislative session," said Mayor E. J. King of Hastings. "I am certain that other towns and cities will join up in demanding a special session."

"I intend to communicate with officials of other down river communities to arrange for concerted action in requesting Gov. Floyd R. Olson to call the legislature into special session."

The city governments of Minneapolis and St. Paul at present are attempting to agree on a "compromise plan" under which the necessary gigantic sewage disposal systems could be constructed without state consent or aid.

Mayor King said that Hastings and other towns and cities will await outcome of this movement before demanding a special session. Many communities are expected to join him in demanding that some plan of sewage disposal be worked out.

"Personally, I believe that legislative action is indispensable in solving the problem," Mayor King said. "In any event, we cannot allow the present conditions, with the accompanying menace to health and destruction of life, to continue for another two years until the legislature meets again in regular session."

GOVERNOR OLSON DOES NOT SIGN TRUCK BILL

Meanwhile, the last reminder of the 1931 legislature had been removed through the action of Governor Olson in signing all except one of the 21 bills passed in the final days of the session. The measure which Olson refused to sign would increase motor truck rates to the same level as railroad rates.

The governor declared that the bill is in anticipation of a substantial increase in railroad rates July 1 and is designed to force truck lines to charge as high rates as railroads.

"Expressed in frank terms," Olson said, "the purpose of the bill is to force common carrier trucks out of business."

The truck bill was the third measure vetoed by the governor. The others were the sewage disposal and congressional reapportionment bill passed in the concluding days of the session.

Among the bills to which Olson affixed his signature late Saturday was one providing for submission to the voters in the 1932 election of a proposal to modify the state constitution

YOUNG GIRL BEATEN, KILLED BY A FIEND

EMILY KIRK, OF HANDEN, CONN., HIT WITH BOTTLE, SHOT FOUR TIMES

THEN HAS LIFE CRUSHED OUT WITH A 50-POUND BOULDER

By BOYD LEWIS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Handen, Conn., April 27.—Pretty Emily Kirk, 21-year-old daughter of Charles Kirk, prosperous country gentleman, was beaten with a ginger ale bottle, criminally attacked, shot four times and her life crushed out with a 50-pound boulder, Coroner James J. Corrigan announced today.

County, state and Handen police united in a search. A drenching rain which fell on the wooded scene of the slaying Sunday destroyed all tracks of the assailant or assailants.

Corrigan, State Police Sergeant Gene Lenzin, County Detectives Stanley Giamelli and George Nicolari and Captain Harry Barrows of the Handen police questioned William Wetmore, cousin of Clement, the dead girl's brother-in-law. He told newspapermen he knew nothing about the murder and denied he was Miss Kirk's former sweetheart.

The autopsy performed by Medical Examiner Marvin H. Scarborough and George H. Joslin revealed the girl was shot twice in the head, once in the upper right arm and once in the palm of the left hand.

Fragments of a bottle were found imbedded in the girl's scalp. Death did not come, the doctors reported, until a large boulder was dropped on her head.

Cermak, who came to this country a poor immigrant boy, worked in a coal mine, and then fought his way upward to the position of millionaire business man, will be inaugurated tonight as mayor of the world's fourth largest city to succeed William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson.

The plan of his admirers and backers is to broadcast Cermak's inaugural address over a national radio system. His plan is to tell the country that he will be a "working mayor," to explain how he will give Chicago "the best administration it has ever had," and to tell of some of the business methods he will introduce to make this the world's first instead of its fourth city during the century of progress exposition in 1933.

It has been said frequently that Cermak has a "golden opportunity" since early this month when Thompson was swept aside in an avalanche of votes and the former coal miner with the kindly but stern face was carried into office to become overnight a nationally recognized political leader.

Demonstrating how he will keep his promise to be a "working mayor" rather than a "greeter" or figure head, Cermak spent almost the entire week-end, night and day, at his desk, considering possible appointees to his cabinet, preparing his inaugural address, and working diligently over his plans to reduce taxes by cutting down city expenditures.

The word "economy" has echoed and re-echoed through every public utterance of the new mayor during his pre-inaugural days in office and it is understood he plans to devote much of his address tonight to this subject.

PRES. AND MRS. HOOVER HAVE SAD WEEK-END TIME

CHOPPY OVERNIGHT RETURN VOYAGE IN SMALL BOAT ON POTOMAC

UNCOMFORTABLE EXPERIENCES WITH ELEMENTS UP AND DOWN RIVER

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 27.—A choppy overnight return voyage in a small boat brought President and Mrs. Hoover to the close today of an exciting and uncomfortable week-end experience with the elements up and down the Potomac.

From the time he left Washington Saturday in a stiff breeze, the chief executive found himself, his party and his 100-foot inspection boat of the commerce department fighting wind, rain, lightning and—for the Potomac river—heavy seas.

Mr. Hoover made the trip in the boat Sequoia to celebrate the 324th anniversary of the landing of the Cavaliers on the sand dune desert of Cape Henry, Va., 22 miles from Norfolk.

The climax of the trip was when a thunder storm broke up the celebration as a clergyman was reciting the Lord's prayer.

Eighteen hours they journeyed down the Potomac in the cramped quarters of the Sequoia. About 8,000 persons were there to greet them.

Mr. Hoover wore his silk hat and Mrs. Hoover a new lilac colored bonnet. Both were ruined in the downpour, which began five minutes after the ceremonies started.

The president and first lady stood with the rain beating down upon them, not moving an inch. Plain coats were thrown over the shoulders of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and several persons tried to hold umbrellas above their heads, but protection was impossible.

Five minutes in the downpour compelled the executive to give up. When he reached the railroad tracks and found the train "gone somewhere to turn around," the rain was falling heavier than before.

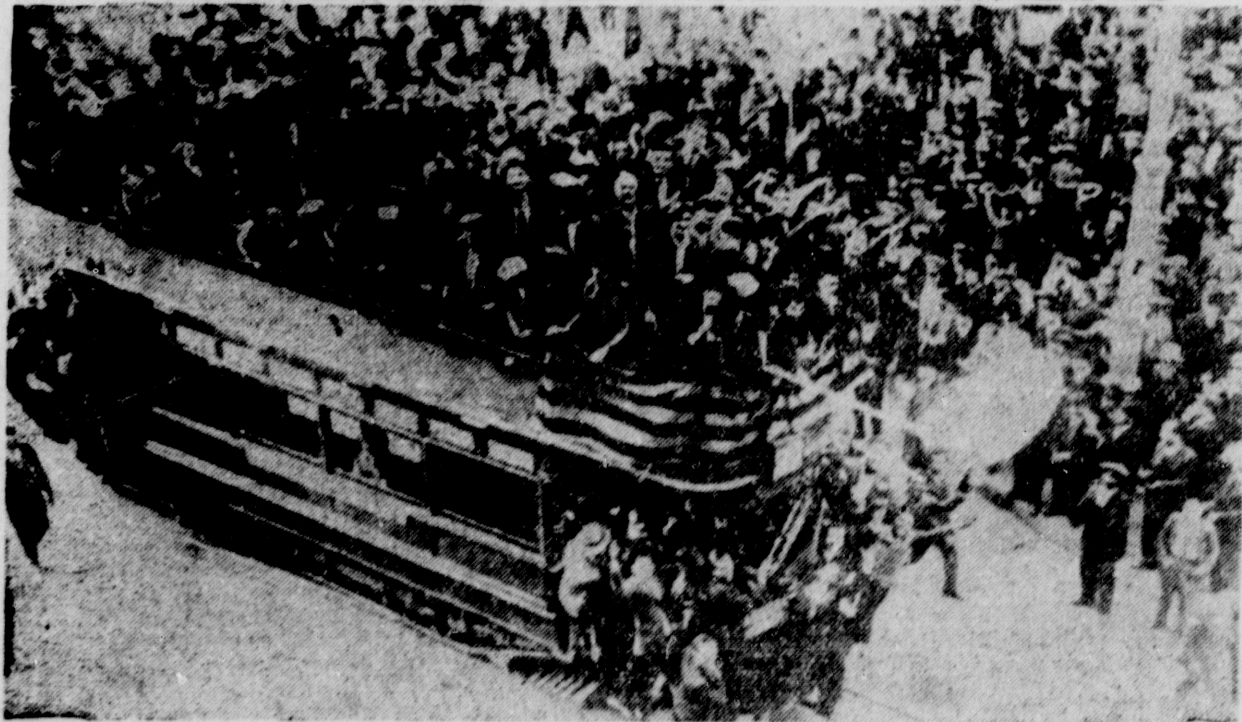

The president and Mrs. Hoover took refuge in a tea room where they were marooned half an hour while hundreds of excited citizens milled around him at arm's length. Mr. Hoover accepted a motor car for the 10-mile return trip to the Sequoia.

Squalls intermittently blew across the Potomac on the return voyage and made traveling extremely uncomfortable.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO OPERATING STILL

St. Paul, April 27.—(U.P.)—Harry Jaffa pleaded not guilty today in federal court to charges of operating illegal stills. He reserved the privilege to change his plea after a review of the charges against him. The case was continued indefinitely. Jaffa was captured last week in Minneapolis after a two year chase by prohibition agents who said he headed one of the most extensive rings operating in the Twin Cities.

SENTIMENT FOR SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

HASTINGS AROUSED FOR NECESSITY OF CORRECTION OF RIVER EVIL

MINNEAPOLIS AND ST. PAUL ATTEMPTING TO AGREE ON COMPROMISE PLAN

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—(U.P.)—Another indication that Minnesota may have a special session of the state legislature was seen today in an announcement from Hastings, Minn., that state action will be sought to solve the problem of Mississippi river pollution.

"Hastings is only one of the towns down river from Minneapolis and St. Paul which may ask for a special legislative session," said Mayor E. J. King of Hastings. "I am certain that other towns and cities will join up in demanding a special session."

"I intend to communicate with officials of other down river communities to arrange for concerted action in requesting Gov. Floyd B. Olson to call the legislature into special session."

The city governments of Minneapolis and St. Paul at present are attempting to agree on a "compromise plan" under which the necessary gigantic sewage disposal systems could be constructed without state consent or aid.

Mayor King said that Hastings and other towns and cities will await outcome of this movement before demanding a special session. Many communities are expected to join him in demanding that some plan of sewage disposal be worked out.

"Personally, I believe that legislative action is indispensable in solving the problem," Mayor King said. "In any event, we cannot allow the present conditions, with the accompanying menace to health and destruction of wild life, to continue for another two years until the legislature meets again in regular session."

GOVERNOR OLSON DOES NOT SIGN TRUCK BILL

Meanwhile, the last reminder of the 1931 legislature had been removed through the action of Governor Olson in signing all except one of the 21 bills passed in the final days of the session. The measure which Olson refused to sign would increase motor truck rates to the same level as railroad rates.

The governor declared that the bill is in anticipation of a substantial increase in railroad rates July 1 and is designed to force truck lines to charge as high rates as railroads.

"Expressed in frank terms," Olson said, "the purpose of the bill is to force common carrier trucks out of business."

The truck bill was the third measure vetoed by the governor. The others were the sewage disposal and congressional reapportionment bill passed in the concluding days of the session.

Among the bills to which Olson affixed his signature late Saturday was one providing for submission to the voters in the 1932 election of a proposal to modify the state constitution.

YOUNG GIRL BEATEN, KILLED BY A FIEND

EMILY KIRK, OF HANDEN, CONN., HIT WITH BOTTLE, SHOT FOUR TIMES

THEN HAS LIFE CRUSHED OUT WITH A 50-POUND BOULDER

By BOYD LEWIS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Handen, Conn., April 27.—Pretty Emily Kirk, 21-year-old daughter of Charles Kirk, prosperous country gentleman, was beaten with a ginger ale bottle, criminally attacked, shot four times and her life crushed out with a 50-pound boulder, Coroner James J. Corrigan announced today.

County, state and Handen police united in a search. A drening rain which fell on the wooded scene of the slaying Sunday destroyed all tracks of the assailant or assailants.

Corrigan, State Police Sergeant Gene Lenzen, County Detectives Stanley Giamelli and George Nicolari and Captain Harry Barrows of the Handen police questioned William Wetmore, cousin of Clement, the dead girl's brother-in-law. He told newspapermen he knew nothing about the murder and denied he was Miss Kirk's former sweetheart.

The autopsy performed by Medical Examiners Marvin H. Scarborough and George H. Joslin revealed the girl was shot twice in the head, once in the upper right arm and once in the palm of the left hand.

Fragments of a bottle were found imbedded in the girl's scalp. Death did not come, the doctors reported, until a large boulder was dropped on her head.

"LEGS" DIAMOND, GANG CHIEFTAIN, SHOT DOWN AGAIN

AMAZING LUCK AGAIN SAVES HIM FROM INSTANT ASSASSINATION

SHOTGUN DISCHARGE BREAKS HIS ARM, WOUNDS HIM IN SIDE AND BACK

Cairo, N. Y., April 27.—(U.P.)—The amazing luck which has saved Jack "Legs" Diamond from assassination twice before in his unsteady gangland career came to his aid again today when he emerged alive, though severely wounded, from a terrific volley of enemy gunfire.

A midnight ambush in a Catskill Mountain roadhouse was the latest trap set for the New York underworld chief by the foes who had marked him for death. But, by the narrowest margin, this attempt failed like the others that have been made on Diamond's strangely charmed life.

Ten charges of buckshot blazed from a sawed-off shotgun as the young Broadway beer runner walked out on the porch of the Saratoga Inn shortly before last midnight. Four of them tore into his body. The others, which would have finished him, splintered the door through which he passed.

The assailant, unknown, escaped into the darkness. Scarcely six months ago Diamond was shot four times and left for dead in a New York hotel. Surgeons said he had a chance in a hundred to survive. Thin, emaciated and tubercular, he was in no condition to resist death, but he recovered.

Since then, he has remained almost in seclusion near here in a strongly guarded house that is referred to as his "fortress."

Diamond, whose notoriety has spread throughout the world, knew it would be useless to flee. He tried that once, and no European country would admit him.

Last night he was sitting with a party of three in the roadhouse. He rose from a table and started to leave the room. Just behind walked his bodyguard, John Scaccio.

As the gang chieftain appeared in the doorway there was a blinding roar from the darkness. Diamond was hurled to the floor, screaming:

"My God, I'm shot again! I'm shot again!"

The firing continued. Scaccio ducked. The passageway and nearby walls were riddled by buckshot. The attack was so terrific and unexpected that none in the roadhouse was certain how many men had fired.

When it had stopped the bodyguard rushed to the side of his fallen chief and picked him up.

"I guess they got me that time," moaned Diamond. "They must have used a machine gun."

But the gangster was less seriously wounded than he thought. He was rushed to Albany hospital, 25 miles away, by ambulance. Physicians said one arm was broken and he had painful wounds on both sides and in his back. It was announced he was not critically wounded but an emergency operation was performed to remove the shot from his body.

But Diamond was not convinced he would live. He kept saying to Scaccio:

"If I go over the hill, be sure to take care of Alice."

Alice is Diamond's wife. It was she who nursed him while he was fighting for his life after the New York hotel shooting. She returned to him when he left the hospital, despite the fact that when he was shot he was at the hotel with Marion Roberts, his 19-year-old red-haired show girl sweetheart.

Marion, in recent weeks, has been staying at Diamond's "fortress." Mrs. Diamond, it was said, left the place when the chorus beauty arrived.

COMMANDERY FETES
STATE DIGNITARIES

Visitors at Inspection of Ascalon In-clude J. P. Eaton and James R. DeGarmo

The Grand Captain General of the Grand Commandery of Minnesota K. T. E. Sir John P. Eaton of Minneapolis, inspected Ascalon Commandery No. 16 K. T. last Friday evening. He was accompanied by the Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Minnesota, Em. Sir James R. DeGarmo together with a party of four other past and present officers of local commanderies of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Delegations from St. Cloud and Little Falls were also present.

Alpha Chapter No. 23 O. E. S. served to the Knights and their visitors a most excellent banquet at 6:30 P. M. Work in the illustrious Order of the Red Cross was exemplified on a class of candidates for the annual inspection and for the observance of the inspector of this district.

Addresses were made by several of the visitors and the Grand Commander dwelled at length upon the proposed program of activities which Minnesota Templarism is contemplating for the entertainment of the Triennial Conclave to be held in Minneapolis June 20 to 26. The Triennial Conclave in Minneapolis will be the largest convention Minneapolis has ever attempted to entertain. It will probably be one of the largest conventions ever convened in the history of the state of Minnesota and the Grand Commander again reminded us that Minnesota Commanderies are the hosts and we as a unit of the Minnesota Grand Commandery would be expected and welcomed to take an active hand in the entertainment. The parade on Tuesday, June 23, will require from five to seven hours to pass a given point. Minnesota Commanderies will head the procession and it is the plan of our local Commandery to appear in this parade in goodly numbers headed by the American Legion Ladies Band. This meets with the full approval of the Grand Commander and he tells us that we, having the only ladies band in the parade, will draw more than the ordinary admiration and comment.

A silver medal contest will be given in the M. E. church Friday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. There are six contestants. Judges include Mrs. Patek, Mrs. Elder, Prof. Santee, Judge Warner and Secretary J. W. Flickew.

COMMANDERY FETES
STATE DIGNITARIES

Visitors at Inspection of Ascalon Include J. P. Eaton and James R. DeGarmo

The Grand Captain General of the Grand Commandery of Minnesota, K. T. E. Sir John P. Eaton of Minneapolis, inspected Ascalon Commandery No. 16 K. T. last Friday evening. He was accompanied by the Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Minnesota, Em. Sir James R. DeGarmo together with a party of four other past and present officers of local Commanderies of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Delegations from St. Cloud and Little Falls were also present.

Alpha Chapter No. 23 O. E. S. served to the Knights and their visitors a most excellent banquet at 6:30 P. M. Work in the illustrious Order of the Red Cross was exemplified on a class of candidates for the annual inspection and for the observance of the inspector of this district.

Addresses were made by several of the visitors and the Grand Commander dwelled at length upon the proposed program of activities which Minnesota Templarism is contemplating for the entertainment of the Triennial Conclave to be held in Minneapolis June 20 to 26. The Triennial Conclave in Minneapolis will be the largest convention Minneapolis has ever attempted to entertain. It will probably be one of the largest conventions ever convened in the history of the state of Minnesota and the Grand Commander again reminded us that Minnesota Commanderies are the hosts and we as a unit of the Minnesota Grand Commandery would be expected and welcomed to take an active hand in the entertainment. The parade on Tuesday, June 23, will require from five to seven hours to pass a given point. Minnesota Commanderies will head the procession and it is the plan of our local Commandery to appear in this parade in goodly numbers headed by the American Legion Ladies Band. This meets with the full approval of the Grand Commander and he tells us that we, having the only ladies band in the parade, will draw more than the ordinary admiration and comment.

There will be a cabinet meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist church at the home of Margaret and Mabel Lind, 602 Second avenue North-east Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

BETTER HOMES WEEK OBSERVED IN COUNTY

Campaign Consists of Cleanup, Planting of Trees, Beautification of Homes, Gardens

WIDE CO-OPERATION ASKED

Large Supply of Flower Seeds, Bulbs and Roots Provided by Flower Exchange Meet

Better Homes Week, a national move, will be observed throughout Crow Wing county this week by the planting of trees, flowers and the general beautification of homes and gardens.

Mrs. Anton Claus is chairman of the county wide organization sponsoring the better homes program.

Memorial trees will be planted on the school grounds of District 13 Friday. A general cleanup of yards in the city and county is advocated. Various groups are assisting the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau in its endeavor to make the week an outstanding success. Already many flower seeds, bulbs and roots have been provided in the first move opening Better Homes Week.

The flower exchange meeting Saturday afternoon sponsored by the Farm Home groups in the county was the most successful meeting in the history of the organization. More than 300 men and women attended the meeting, and hundreds of bulbs, roots and seeds were distributed.

Speakers for the day included: R. C. Rose, plant disease specialist from the University of Minnesota; Miss Ada Wunderlich, County Home chairman; Mrs. Anton F. Claus, County Agent; E. G. Roth, A. P. Cardie, Fred Blomberg and Homer Wells.

Besides a large number of farmers bringing in seeds for exchange, the following people from the Crow Wing County Flower Society donated bulbs, seeds and roots:

A. P. Cardie, 100 packages of gladioli bulbs.

Fred Blomberg, 60 bundles of Minnesota Chief raspberries.

Mrs. W. C. Rice, 400 gladioli bulbs.

A. L. Alexander, 100 perennials.

Mrs. M. R. Smith, lilies.

Dr. L. F. Hawkinson, gladioli bulbs.

Mrs. J. H. Herbert, roots and bulbs.

Mrs. Carl Wright, roots and bulbs.

Dr. G. I. Badaux, phlox.

Mrs. C. A. Nelson, seeds and plants.

Mrs. N. D. Nelson, 2 dozen packages of garden seeds.

Mrs. C. D. McKay, golden glow.

Turcotte Bros., 100 gladioli bulbs.

Mrs. E. J. Quinn, iris.

Some ladies from Crosby also brought down flowers, seeds and bulbs. The Crow Wing County Garden Society will donate two prizes to the best blooms grown from the Cardie gladioli bulbs exhibited at the Flower Show this fall.

OH THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Copyright 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A gentleman from Toledo, Ohio, writes to tell me that he would like to say his say about these "women who walk back streets." His ideas are interesting and you can believe him or not. I'll let you hear him at any rate.

"Dear Miss Allard: I imagine the answers you will receive on your inquiry regarding 'back street' women, will be extremely interesting, but I am afraid that you will find the psychology presented will not prove very sound. I have never known a woman to explain the primary motives (even to herself) for her friendship with a married man, and I seriously doubt if you will succeed in getting one to do so.

"I assume, of course, that you wish to eliminate the gold digger from the discussion. She, of course, is nothing more than an exclusively bad egg.

You are interested in the woman who feels that she has effected some degree of fusion with another woman's husband.

"Well, let's turn on the X-ray. The most common reason is that she can usually effect a relation with (to her) a higher grade man, when she does not make marriage one of her conditions or eliminations. Many city girls are determined (or hopeful) to marry above the financial social situation from which they have come, and many of them take an illegal relation with type of men they long for, in preference to the legal marriage with the type of men they could get. I think the majority of the back street women belong to this classification.

"Then there are those women (and men) who look on love as something like a game of cards, in which two people of opposite sex play for dominance and objection. Hence the (emotional) conclusion that the harder a man is to win, the more wonderful and interesting he is. To such women, the whole-hearted, sincere lover, who is ready to lay his life at their feet is simply a boob and a sap, and so he is, if he lays it at the feet of such a woman.

"The smallest group are those in the grip of a glowing love fixation that involves a martyr complex—a sometimes beautiful, but the none less true form of insanity.

"America has more men than women, but sometimes it seems to me that about ninety percent of the women are desiring to pair off with about ten percent of the men. And some of these will not admit that a marriage ceremony is a boundary line they may not cross when otherwise frustrated.

Well, girls, get a nice big glass of water and try to swallow that. It is an interesting analysis isn't it? And so much of it is true. He strips the back street people, right down to the bones.

I think any unfortunate love affair can be blamed first on propinquity. That is unfortunate, but men and women usually know when they are beginning to get dizzy in the head and are about to fall. Then why don't they turn around and walk the other way as fast as they can? I believe that women like danger and court it more often than do men.

The trouble is that there is too much disregard for the "keep off" signs on both men and lawns. I never yet saw a married woman being chased vigorously by some man she had put in his place when he first started his wooing.

In fact, all of this back street trouble starts with delays, the recipient of the illegal attention being curious to see what will happen, and, then, maybe finding that he (or she) is on a slippery slide. There is but one warning. Don't start! That's the best remedy for preventing a miserable finish.

RECIPE GIVES COFFEE ROASTER IDEA FOR PERFECTING FLAVOR

Applies Rule for Mixing Muffin Ingredients to Patented Roasting Process

Success in muffin making depends to a great extent on the care with which the batter is made. That is why most recipes state that the milk should be poured into the flour a little at a time rather than all at once. Such care prevents lumps from forming.

This rule, "a little at a time," is the basis of Controlled Roasting—a process patented and used only by Hills Bros. in roasting their coffee. By automatic control, coffee passes continuously through the roasters, a few pounds at a time. Accurately controlled heat is applied with the result that every berry is roasted evenly—to the degree that insures a rich, uniform, full-bodied flavor. The common method of roasting coffee is in bulk—just the opposite of Hills Bros.' process.

Hills Bros. Coffee is always fresh because it is packed in vacuum. By this process air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Interim Commissions Slow to Report

INTERIM commissions of the legislature have been slow to report, three submitting reports near the close of the session, and one commission, a very important one on education and university affairs, a joint commission, filed no report whatever, but turned in an expense account of $2,200.

This committee should have had a report for the legislature early in the session. Its report would have guided the legislature which has reduced the maintenance fund of the University of Minnesota.

Every father and mother in Minnesota and in other states is interested, and vitally too, in the new program of the University which, because of anticipated state aid withheld, will have to practice the strictest economy in its educational and research program for the 1931-1933 biennium.

When the board of regents meet May 12, and of which board W. H. Gemmell of Brainerd is a member, it will be to discuss the feasibility of raising tuition, checking enrollment or eliminating courses to bring the total cost of operating the University within the $3,275,000 a year voted for the University budget.

Raising of tuition fees, long a subject of regents' arguments, now seems quite probable. Recommendations as to how best this may be accomplished are expected from committees appointed by President L. D. Coffman.

The raising of tuition fees would be keenly felt by students and families in these days when depression in business has not been entirely solved and when means of self-help at the University have been reduced to the vanishing point.

In six years, from 1927 to 1933, the University has gained only $25,000 a year in appropriations for general maintenance. The request for $3,825,000 for each of the coming two years was based on estimated enrollments as well as past budgets.

Although the legislature refused a request for a $250,000 research fund, the annual appropriation of $25,000 for medical research was allowed.

Truck Bill is Vetoed

THE truck bill passed by house and senate was vetoed by Governor Olson.

This bill was a measure regulating commercial trucking and was passed by the legislature after a prolonged fight and much work in committee and on the floor.

The governor deliberated three days after receiving the bill and during that time was the recipient of many telegrams from all parts of the state asking him to sign. Railroad brotherhoods, particularly, sent many telegrams.

The bill would have prohibited railroads from being either directly or indirectly interested in the operation of motor truck freight lines along routes now served by railroads, and would have prevented truck lines from charging lower rates than railroads when the two are in competition for freight business.

In explaining his failure to sign the bill, Governor Olson said that while he was "keenly sympathetic" with the stand of the railroad brotherhoods, he did not believe that the bill would appreciably insure their continued employment by the railroads, and that it would work an injustice on the independent merchants of the state who are unable to buy in carload lots.

At Brainerd resolutions in favor of the truck bill were adopted by the city council, the county commissioners and others, and petitions with hundreds of signers throughout the city were presented to the legislature.

Unusual Train Time

THERE is some kind of an axiom about a slow train in Arkansas, but we have one in Minnesota too, and that is Brainerd's afternoon train for the Twin Cities. According to the new time table effective Sunday, this train leaves at 1:50 p. m. and does not get into Minneapolis until 9:30 p. m. and St. Paul at 10 p. m. There is a layover at Little Falls from 2:50 p. m. until 6:41 p. m., when connection is made with the Winniequo. No. 14 train.

Imagine spending 3 hours and 51 minutes, almost 4 hours, in a town waiting for a train. Train patrons, during the stop-over, will find time to go to a ball game at Little Falls or to visit the Lindbergh memorial park across the river.

A motorist may easily drive from Brainerd to Minneapolis in the time he would spend in Little Falls waiting for the passenger train connection.

Kidnaping, New Method of Racketeering

KIDNAPING as a new method of racketeering, is coming to notice in America. Just as soon as one prominent man is released, another is kidnaped. The victims usually have very little to say upon their release and are broken in spirit and body, subjects of mental torture.

Families in many cases, as that in the recent experience of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, drop aid of the authorities and seek to deal at first hand with the kidnapers.

It hardly seems possible that in these enlightened days we should witness organized gangs of kidnapers plying their nefarious calling and extorting money from their victims and their families. Continued success only serves to make the kidnapers bolder and more widespread in their operations.

THROUGHOUT the state there has been quite a rush for marriage licenses by couples anxious to avoid the new law which requires a five day wait between issuance of the license and the marriage.

MANY an angry letter can be modified or even destroyed if the writer takes time to let a good sleep intervene. Time has a method of its own in smoothing down acerbities.

A POETESS has been denied admission to the United States. The authorities were doubtful of her ability as a broad winner, believing the muse unsteady in that regard.

DAYLIGHT saving time was invented by the man who set his alarm clock ahead an hour or so to kid himself into getting up early.

Two agencies have kept America in motion, Henry Ford and William Wrigley, Jr.

THE liquor issue has been injected into the Minneapolis city campaign.

so as to insure the legality of a state income tax law.

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—By a unanimous vote, the St. Paul city council today asked Governor Floyd B. Olson to call a special session of the legislature to settle the metropolitan drainage dispute.

A resolution by Clyde R. May, commissioner of parks, play grounds and public buildings, which was adopted, said the Mississippi river was one of the state's greatest assets and that there should be no further delay in eliminating the health menace of "an open sewer."

The resolution also said "an open cesspool" exists above the Ford dam and that another "cesspool" soon will form between Hastings and St. Paul with the construction of the Hastings dam.

PROWLER HELD FOR VIOLATING PAROLE

St. Paul, April 27.—(U.P.)—A prowler who has a 1-year police record was held today for violating a parole by entering a Highland Park home.

The youth was Roy Haveland, 22, who was first sent to the Red Wing training school 11 years ago and was released on March 18, 1931, from the St. Cloud reformatory.

Police had been notified that a prowler was active in the vicinity where the boy was working and laid a trap for him Sunday. When Haveland crawled out of the Anton E. Podhora home yesterday, radio squad officers were waiting for him.

SPEEDER HAS A READY ALIBI

Los Angeles, April 27.—(U.P.)—When James Souter was arrested for speeding 58 miles an hour, he had a ready alibi for Traffic Judge Louis Kaufman.

"I was chasing my wife, who was eloping with another man," Souter explained. "They were trying to leave me behind and I had to step on the gas to keep up with them."

"And did you catch them?" asked Judge Kaufman.

"No, but I would have if the officer had not forced me to the curb for speeding. I guess it really was best, though, that I didn't catch them."

Whereupon Judge Kaufman suspended a $15 fine.

SAVES GIRL IN WRECKED CAR AFTER 12 FOOT DROP TO WATER

Irvine Anderson, Severely Hurt, Pulls
Esther Bye From Submerged
Overturned Coupe

CRASH THROUGH BRIDGE

Guard Rail Separates Occupants, Remains in Car; Two Lives
Saved Miraculously

Himself severely injured, Irvine Anderson of Rocky Point, Gull Lake, saved his lady companion, Miss Esther Bye of Pequot from drowning early Sunday evening when their car crashed through the guard rail of the Gull Lake bridge on the so-called Rainbow trail, overturned and plunged 12 feet into the water below.

Anderson pulled Miss Bye through the rear window of the overturned car, themselves submerged in water, the wheels of the vehicle a little above the water line. He crawled along a 16 feet, two by six inch plank guard rail that was driven through the windshield and the rear window and carried with the car to the bottom of the shallows between Upper Gull and Big Gull Lakes.

Anderson commanded all his strength to save the young woman. After the rescue the two were taken to Brainerd in a car by Robert Sinclair, Anderson to the St. Joseph's hospital and Miss Bye to a doctor's office.

Injuries included:
Anderson—scalp wound, sprain of back, cuts about the face and neck, sprain of left arm and wrist.

Miss Bye—bruises about the head, cuts about the left hand and the loss of the tip of her little finger on that hand, severe shock.

Miss Bye was driving the car, a Chevrolet coupe with a California license reported the property of Irvine's brother, Arthur Anderson who is living at his summer cottage near Rocky Point.

Swerving to the right side of the bridge as she drove the car towards Rocky Point, Miss Bye lost control of the vehicle and gave the wheel a sudden jerk to right it again. The car leaped across the bridge and splintered the guard rail, the plank shattering the glass and entering the car between the two occupants. The guard rail smashed through the rear window and gave way. The car shot into space and turned over falling into the bottom of the shallows on its back. Except for the quick presence of mind of Irvine both occupants would have been wedged into the watery depths in the crumbling car. Before the frame work of the vehicle gave way he had pulled Miss Bye through the rear window and had crawled exhausted to the shore. The vehicle, sunk in the mud of the shallows, was only two feet from a drop off.

The car was a complete wreck. It was taken from the water and brought to Brainerd by a wrecker this morning.

Anderson will be required to remain in the hospital a few days before his condition will permit his discharge. He is the son of C. E. Anderson Rocky Point.

'LIVEST LEGION POST' SOUGHT IN MINNESOTA

When Minnesota's biggest Legion posts are being considered, the honors go to towns like Winona, Rochester, Worthington, Stillwater, Red Wing, St. Cloud, Brainerd, Bemidji, Morris, Alexander, Wilmar, Hibbing, Virginia, Moorhead, Fergus Falls and Robbinsdale, in the country, with David Wisted Post of Duluth, St. Paul Post Eight, and Minneapolis Post Five—Four leading in the cities.

"But in the small post class," says Oscar Youngdahl of Minneapolis, state membership director, "it is harder to pick the best ones. Jasper with 68 in a town of 1,000 thought it was the best, but Belview replied that it has 60 members in a town of 250 people; and Bagley has 100 members in a community of 814 inhabitants."

Dr. J. A. Thabes, Sr.

The four were occupants of a car en route to Staples where the doctors were to attend a medical meeting. About 24 miles west of Brainerd on Trunk Highway No. 2, a rear tire blew out, the car rolling over three times.

Dr. Thabes, Sr., received a severe cut on the nose. Dr. Thabes, Jr., was at the wheel of the car, his wife beside him. All suffered from shock and bruises. They were thrown out when the top was torn off as the vehicle overturned the first time.

LEGION TO OBSERVE MUSIC WEEK MAY 3-9

According to Roy Anderson of Austin, state Legion music chairman, Minnesota's 470 Legion posts will unite with other organizations in paying public tribute to "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the national anthem, during national music week, May 3-9.

Mrs. Eleanor Robertson of Litchfield, state music chairman for The American Legion Auxiliary, announces that the 400 units of that body will join in this observance in accordance with the suggestion of Ralph T. O'Neil, Legion national commander, and Mrs. Robert Lincoln Hoyal, Auxiliary national president.

"President Hoover on March 4 officially declared that The Star-Spangled Banner is the national anthem of the United States," said Mr. Anderson. He and Mrs. Robertson have asked all Gopher posts and units to help sponsor presentations of the national anthem, not as a casual performance but as an impressive ceremonial.

They urge the narrating of the national anthem's history, the presentation of tableaux based upon that story, and its performance by a massed chorus. The showing of the Star-Spangled Banner motion picture is also recommended.

"Charges that The Star-Spangled Banner is unsingable can be overcome by adjusting pitch to the type of group singing the anthem," Mrs. Robertson declared. "It should be in the original key for women but in a lower key for mixed groups and a still lower key for men."

S. R. Hickerson in a Statement to Dispatch

S. R. Hickerson, of the Hickerson Garment Factory, says that the article in last week Friday's issue stating that five girls had quit their employment at the Hickerson Garment Factory because of three discounts in wages since the first of the year is untrue.

He further says that the fact is that three of these girls were trying to incite dissension among the factory employees and because of this were discharged by factory officials and other girls in sympathy with them were also discharged.

The records of the factory disclose that since the first of the year these girls have earned an average wage of $58 per month. This being the slack season. The records also disclose that some of these girls averaged more than $15 a week all during last year.

At the beginning of the year there was a 10 per cent cut taken by everyone, from Mr. Hickerson right down the line and this is all the cuts that have been made. There have, however, been some price adjustments made. For instance, there has been a penny or two taken off certain operations that were paid too high and this amount placed on other operations that were paid too low, thereby making a more even average.

HORNSBY PILES UP 425 BATTING MARK

11 HITS IN 15 TIMES AT BAT IN 3 GAMES

NOW LEADS BOTH LEAGUES IN RUNS BATTED IN, WITH 15

TIED FOR HOME RUN LEAD WITH STONE OF DETROIT, 5 EACH

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, April 27.—Swinging back into the stride that made him batting champion of the National League for seven years, Rogers Hornsby, Chicago Cubs' manager and second baseman, today boasted of a batting average of .425 and a record of 11 hits in 15 times at bat in his last three games.

Hornsby's batting average dwindled to a mere .240 last week, but he began his batting streak with three home runs in succession against Pittsburgh on Friday. He also added a single in his last appearance at bat and ran his streak to seven consecutive hits by driving out singles in his first three times at bat Saturday. A double in his last time at bat Saturday and three hits yesterday against Cincinnati enabled him to raise his batting average .185 points in three days.

Although just outside the five leading major league hitters today, Hornsby led both leagues in runs batted in, with 15, was tied for the home run lead with Jonathan Stone, Detroit, with 5 each, was tied for third in runs scored with 11, and tied for third in hits with 17.

The only playing manager in the majors, Hornsby perhaps has one of baseball's most difficult assignments. A slump in his playing is reflected in the entire Cubs' team. When Hornsby is hitting, the Cubs play winning baseball.

Inspired by his slugging the past three games, the Cubs have climbed into third place only a game back of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals.

With almost 16 seasons of play behind him, Hornsby at 35 has only a few more years in the line-up as a regular ahead of him. He needs only one more batting championship to tie Hans Wagner's record of leading the National League for eight years.

BABE RUTH IS BACK HOME TODAY

COMES IN WHEEL CHAIR AFTER BEING RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

New York, April 27.—(U.P.)—Babe Ruth, baseball's most colorful figure, was back home today.

Ruth, who was injured Thursday in the game between the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, came home in a wheel-chair yesterday after he had been released from a Boston hospital. He will remain here ten days or two weeks before he will be able to rejoin his team mates.

"I feel fine now, but I don't know how soon I'll be able to hop around again," Ruth said as he arrived.

He expressed hope he would be able to play when the Yankees open their series against the Philadelphia Athletics Thursday. His physicians, however, said they believed it would be at least ten days before Ruth would be able to play.

Turning about running north along the creek Wood then attained a 101.04 miles per hour speed. His next run was at 101.256 M. P. H.

Welland pitched the Colonels to the 7 to 4 victory over Milwaukee yesterday. He kept eight hits well scattered.

With the 21 to 9 trouncing by St. Paul, the Columbus Red Birds dropped their chance to get into the front ranks, passing the entry card to their opponents. St. Paul scored 18 runs in the first five innings.

Kansas City and Indianapolis split a double header, leaving both teams trailing intermediate territory. The visiting Blues took the first game, 12 to 5, and dropped the six-inning night cap, 3 to 4. The Indianapolis 6 o'clock closing law terminated the second contest.

Today's schedule: Milwaukee at Louisville. Kansas City at Indianapolis. St. Paul at Columbus. Minneapolis at Toledo.

MINNESOTA'S WHOLE REAPPORTIONMENT TANGLE IN COURTS

Minneapolis, April 27.—(U.P.)—Emil A. Holmes this afternoon brought Minnesota's entire reapportionment tangle before the courts.

He filed a petition asking a writ of mandamus compelling the secretary of state to accept his petition for the democratic nomination as congressman-at-large in 1932.

The action will test the validity of Governor Floyd E. Olson's veto of the redistricting measure passed by both houses of the state legislature during their closing days. Legislators held that Olson had no power to veto their proposal and that it was therefore in effect despite the veto.

HORNSBY PILES UP 425 BATTING MARK

TIMES AT BAT
IN 3 GAMES

NOW LEADS BOTH LEAGUES IN RUNS BATTED IN,
WITH 15

TIED FOR HOME RUN LEAD WITH STONE OF DETROIT,
5 EACH

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, April 27.—Swinging back into the stride that made him batting champion of the National League for seven years, Rogers Hornsby, Chicago Cubs' manager and second baseman, today boasted of a batting average of .425 and a record of 11 hits in 15 times at bat in his last three games.

Hornsby's batting average dwindled to a mere .240 last week, but he began his batting streak with three home runs in succession against Pittsburgh on Friday. He also added a single in his last appearance at bat and ran his streak to seven consecutive hits by driving out singles in his first three times at bat Saturday. A double in his last time at bat Saturday and three hits yesterday against Cincinnati enabled him to raise his batting average .185 points in three days.

Although just outside the five leading major league hitters today, Hornsby led both leagues in runs batted in, with 15, was tied for the home run lead with Jonathan Stone, Detroit, with 5 each, was tied for third in runs scored with 11, and tied for third in hits with 17.

The only playing manager in the majors, Hornsby perhaps has one of baseball's most difficult assignments. A slump in his playing is reflected in the entire Cubs' team. When Hornsby is hitting, the Cubs play winning baseball.

Inspired by his slugging the past three games, the Cubs have climbed into third place only a game back of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals.

With almost 16 seasons of play behind him, Hornsby at 35 has only a few more years in the line-up as a regular ahead of him. He needs only one more batting championship to tie Hans Wagner's record of leading the National League for eight years.

MINNESOTA'S WHOLE REAPPORTIONMENT TANGLE IN COURTS

Minneapolis, April 27.—(U.P.)—Emil A. Holmes this afternoon brought Minnesota's entire reapportionment tangle before the courts.

He filed a petition asking a writ of mandamus compelling the secretary of state to accept his petition for the democratic nomination as congressman-at-large in 1932.

The action will test the validity of Governor Floyd E. Olson's veto of the redistricting measure passed by both houses of the state legislature during their closing days. Legislators held that Olson had no power to veto their proposal and that it was therefore in effect despite the veto.
